Menu Foods Recall Product List - U.S. & Canada

International Menu Foods Recall Product List

Update as of May 2, 2007: Menu Foods has announced an expansion of the pet food recall to include certain products that do not contain ChemNutra wheat gluten, but that were manufactured at Menu Foods' facilities during the period in which ChemNutra wheat gluten was being used.

Menu Foods has expressed concerns of possible cross-contamination of certain products that were processed during the same timeframe as contaminated products. Three Nutro wet canned cat foods are included in this expanded recall even though these products do not contain wheat gluten or rice protein concentrate.

A number of samples of these foods produced both during and after the time period referenced by Menu Foods (December 6, 2006 to January 24, 2007) were sent to an independent laboratory for analysis and no melamine was detected in any of these samples. However, out of an abundance of caution, Nutro is voluntarily participating in the recall of these three products.

The newly added products from Nutro include the 3 oz canned wet cat foods highlighted in red below. Nutro is voluntarily participating in the Menu Foods recall. The following items are being recalled:
